ABOUT THE PROGRAMME

On 27th March every year, World Theatre Day is celebrated in order to recognize the power of the medium as a dominant form of mass communication and cultural exchange across the globe by ITI (International Theatre Institute), theatre professionals, organizations, universities, academics and theatre lovers. Each year, it is tradition for the International Theatre Institute to provide a message that brings greetings and encouragement for those who are involved with, or simply appreciate, the theatre in its various forms. The theme promoted for World Theatre Day is the same each year: "Theatre and a Culture of Peace". In this context, the Department of English, Bengali and Sanskrit of Seva Bharati Mahavidyalaya plans to celebrate the day by bringing to the fore diverse perspectives on theatre for a better understanding of the art form in its various manifestations, engaging in a meaningful dialogue with the students for a better appreciation of theatre. It aims to facilitate an interdisciplinary approach to theatre well-grounded in the theoretical praxis across disciplines.
